

Then and Now Venn Diagram

Think about an item in your daily life that has changed during the pandemic. In the first space on the left, list how you used it and what it meant to you before. In the last space on the right, list how you are using it and what it means now. In the middle space, list the characteristics that both items have in common. Analyze the data you have entered and write your conclusions on the lines below.

